

The 2012 Arizona Domestic Violence and Risk Conference

The free, one-day conference is principally designed to train Arizona police officers, probation officers, attorneys, and other allied professionals in the risks involved in handling domestic violence cases. Topics covered include: exploring the risk of intimate partner homicide; prosecuting domestic violence cases; risks posed by police officer-involved domestics; predominant aggressor assessments; the lethality assessment program (LAP); victim/survivor perspectives on risk; and risk and hidden evidence: strangulation cases.

Scholarships of up to $250 are available to cover costs related to travel and accommodation.
